FLASHLIGHT AT JAIL; MAN HELD

Canadian Press
 Vancouver, May 8.—Police officers in charge of the city jail yesterday evening discovered the beam of a flashlight being thrown into the cells from the roof of the nearby Landing Apartments, apparently as a signal to inmates.

Police surrounded the apartment house and arrested a man descending from the roof. He is being held for investigation.

R. F. CHRISTY WINS MEDAL

Mainland Student Secures Governor-General's Award at U.B.C.

Canadian Press
 Vancouver, May 8.—Robert Frederick Christy, Vancouver, winner of the Governor-General's Gold Medal, headed a list of 318 graduates of the University of British Columbia issued today by the University Senate.

Christy, together with scholarship and bursary winners and the entire graduating class, will be honored at the convocation ceremony at the university to-morrow, when Premier Pattullo will give the convocation speech.

The achievement of Christy, who had first class honors in physics and mathematics, marked the third time he has won distinction in his university career. He held a matriculation scholarship on entering U.B.C. and was the University Scholarship for general proficiency in his third year.

He plans to return to the university and work for a post-graduate work in physics. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Christy and a native of Vancouver.

Eighty-five scholarships, prizes and bursaries were awarded, and the number of first and second class students was larger than last year.

Pattullo, who headed the graduates in applied science, won the most scholarship for post-graduate work and the Convocation Prize for proficiency among fifth year science students. Although not a Vancouver resident, he matriculated from Powell River High School.

Veto Soon On U.S. Bonus Bill

Roosevelt Indicates He Will Refuse to Sign Veterans' Measure

Associated Press
 Washington, May 8.—President Roosevelt indicated today a veto against the Veterans' Bonus Bill will be sent to Congress within a short time.

A while before, Speaker Byrnes predicted the House would override a veto, but that the Senate would sustain the President. A two-thirds vote is required to pass a bill over presidential disapproval.

At his regular press conference today, Mr. Roosevelt declined formal comment on passage of the measure, but expressed serious misgivings as he had not received it from Congress.

Little doubt was left, however, that a veto awaited the legislation and it appeared certain that this action would be taken quickly.

Mr. Roosevelt observed that he might not take advantage of the ten days allowed by the constitution for action on the bill.

DELAYED BY MOTION
 In view of the White House reaction, Senator Thomas, Democrat, Oklahoma, entered a motion as soon as the Senate convened to reconsider the vote by which the Veterans bill was passed yesterday, in order that it could not be sent to the White House to-day and returned immediately with a veto.

The Veterans bill calls for payment of the promised bonus to veterans of the Great War with $5,251,254,000 in new currency.

King Delighted With B.C. Gift

Thunderbird Bowl Sent to Buckingham Palace To-day and Presented; His Majesty's Interest Expressed

King George has expressed great interest in the Thunderbird Bowl, British Columbia's unique gift to His Majesty in honor of his Silver Jubilee, according to word received this morning by Premier Pattullo.

The beautiful silver bowl was delivered to Buckingham Palace this morning, W. A. Matheson, acting B.C. Agent General, advised the Premier.

"Mr. President," he said, "I am sure you will be pleased to see the Thunderbird Bowl, which has already expressed great interest in B.C.'s gift." Mr. Matheson's words were.

Along with the bowl went the presentation of the people of British Columbia to the King and Queen, which was presented to the King and Queen by the Premier.

Mr. Matheson said that the bowl was a unique gift to the King and Queen, which was presented to the King and Queen by the Premier.

BIG PARACHUTE TO LOWER PLANE

Associated Press
 Los Angeles, May 8.—Paul, Bruce Turner, aged fifty, said to-day he was awaiting completion of a sixty-foot parachute large enough to support a passenger plane safely in earth, so as to use in a series of safety tests in mid-air.

"I expect to take it off within a few days," he said.

B.C. DRIVES FOR CUT IN TARIFFS

Two Counsel Will Appear For Province Before Board on May 20

The B.C. government will launch a determined drive for cheaper motoring in the province when the Canadian Tariff Board sits in Vancouver on May 20 to hear representations on the automobile industry.

Premier Pattullo announced this morning the province would submit arguments for lower tariffs both on automobiles and on petroleum products, which means gasoline.

J. W. Galt, Parris, K.C., has been asked to appear for the province on the automobile question and C. H. O'Halloran, has been engaged to handle the gasoline case.

The combined tariffs on these two products constitute an enormous financial burden upon the motoring public of B.C., and the economic life of the province generally, B.C. counsel will argue. On automobiles, especially, British Columbians pay a third as much again as the manufacturer price due to the big tariff wall, it is claimed.

Adoption Plan For Quintuplets

Canadian Press
 Colander, Ont., May 8.—A request that they be allowed to adopt their own quintuplet daughters during the "Adopt-a-Child Week" has been sent by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Deane to Hon. D. A. Croft, Ontario Minister of Public Welfare. It was learned to-day. The letter was dispatched Monday.

Mr. Croft announced last week that in honor of the first birthday of the Deane quintuplets, the week of May 20 was designated as "Adopt-a-Child Week." The five baby girls now are special wards of the King under legislation passed by the Ontario Legislature.

In their letter to Mr. Croft, the parents cite their qualifications for the adoption and by diplomatic representation of virtually all the world's powers, who brought messages of congratulations and good wishes to the monarch.

MANY STRINGS
 According to the expressions of love and loyalty, conveyed by the Empire representatives from their respective parliaments, His Majesty said:

"The numerous irrevocable ties of sentiment and tradition which bind us together are indeed delicate, but many strands make a cable strong to bind in times of adversity."

"It is my prayer so long as my firm belief that this bond of spirit may also prove a bond of peace."

GREAT CROWD THERE
 A crowd of more than 10,000 persons gathered outside Buckingham Palace to see the King and Queen depart in a closed automobile for St. James's Palace, where the reception was held in the white and gold throne room.

Former First in Sophomore Year and Latter Tops Freshmen at Local Institution

High Standard Is Maintained

Evelyn D. Prisk, scholarship winner last year, and Mun Hope, who led Victoria High School in the 1934 matriculation examinations, were top ranking students in second and first year, respectively, of Victoria College, according to examination results approved and released by the Senate of the University of British Columbia to-day.

Miss Prisk, in leading the sophomore year, had an average of 88.5 per cent in all subjects, while Mun Hope's average was 84.7 per cent.

 The achievement by Mun Hope added further lustre to an outstanding academic record. A brilliant student in secondary school, Mun followed in the footsteps of his brother, Bing, in leading the freshmen class at the college. That distinction was gained by Bing last year.

In connection with the results and names of scholarship winners the authorities released the following preamble:

"The Senate of the University of British Columbia has approved and announced the results of the examinations held at Victoria College in April."

"The faculty of the college informs us that the work of both first and second-year students has been well up to the standard."

Students who have been granted supplemental examinations will have the opportunity to remove deficiencies in their work in September. Notices will be sent to all such students.

Students who wish to enter applied sciences at the university, and have passed the entrance examination in arts and science, but have not obtained the 80 per cent demanded in certain subjects for entry in applied sciences, will also have the opportunity to improve their standing by taking the September supplemental examinations.

Order of the second year—EVELYN D. PRISK, 88.5 per cent. Leader of the first year—MUN HOPE, 84.7 per cent.

SIDETRACK DIME LETTERS IN EAST

Postal Director in Ontario Says Chain Epistles in That Part of Canada, When Detected, Are Sent to Deadletter Office

Canadian Press
 Toronto, May 8.—The send-a-dime chain letter fed is not in the best interests of the public, and anything the post office can do to detect one on the wing, the epistle will be addressed to the deadletter office, said Mr. G. H. Gibson, director of postal services, stated here.

Mr. Gibson said a specific postal regulation prohibited their transmission through the Canadian mails.

Professor Michael Macdonald of the department of mathematics, University of Toronto, expressed the opinion the chain letter was, theoretically, "sound." "But," he added, "it is only up to the point where they begin to overlap and repeat. Finally they reach the deadletter point, and everybody breaks even."

WASHINGTON BELEAGUED
 Washington, May 8.—Sent by a multitude of inquiries, the Post Office Department to-day made public a ruling of its legal department which declared the "send-a-dime" chain letter illegal, it violates the lottery and kindred laws of the postal system.

Send-a-Dime Craze Growing

Post Offices Here and in Vancouver Face Inundation If Chains Kept Up

As both Victoria and Vancouver were threatened with an inundation of "send-a-dime" chain letters, postal authorities to-day were investigating possible methods of checking the flood should it become necessary.

So far, according to Postmaster George Gardiner, mail deliveries have not suffered from the send-a-dime craze, but apparently this city has just been swung into the chain that have been sweeping the United States. Dozens of "letters," however, reported to-day that they had received letters, practically all from friends in California.

Postal authorities declined to comment themselves one way or the other to-day on the legality of the dime chain letters, but cited powers which the Postmaster-General had over letters "suspected to concern illegal lotteries, so-called gift certificates or other illegal enterprises offering prizes or concealing schemes devised or intended to deceive or defraud the public for the purpose of obtaining money."

Local Underwriters Hear Address By President of National Body

The need for greater membership in the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada was stressed by W. A. Kennedy, Winnipeg, national president, in an address to members of the Victoria and Island group at a luncheon in Speedy's Cafe yesterday.

The national association sought to embrace 80 per cent of the licensed insurance companies in the Dominion.
Mr. Kennedy said. The present membership is 8,000.

Mr. Kennedy sketched the work of the underwriters' organization since its founding, twenty-eight years ago, and explained how many malpractices had been eliminated and standards had been raised. Co-operation was now evident between head offices and men in the field, he said.

The speaker told of a system which had been agreed to among companies under which business would be sold $20,000 worth of business in their first year and $50,000 during their second year, in a city of 15,000 population, would be permitted to leave and enter other businesses in which they could make a living. Part-time salesmen were losing favor with the companies, he said.

Mr. Kennedy's address was well received and he was questioned at length by the members when he concluded.

A report from the committee in charge of arrangements for observance of Life Insurance Week from May 12 to 18 was given by Fred Lewis.

FLAT RATE FOR WATER SOUGHT

Victoria and Uplands Golfers
Seek Reduced Charges
From Oak Bay Council

A consultation with the water committee of the City Council to determine whether or not it will be possible to provide special flat rates for water consumption to the Victoria and Uplands golf clubs will be sought immediately
by the Oak Bay council.

The action followed a meeting yesterday evening at which representatives of the golf clubs met Mayor May-hew and members of the council in committee and pleaded for reduction in the present rates.

While lending a sympathetic ear to the pleas of the golfers, the council was aware that any concessions made to the clubs would be done at the expense of the ratepayers.

The delegation sought a flat rate
for an unlimited quantity of water.
In support of their argument, they pointed out that such concession would enable them to keep the greens and grounds in better shape, and thereby improve the links as a tourist attraction. W. H. M. Haldane and R. L. Challenger spoke in behalf of the two clubs. There were nine members on the delegation.

The councillors agreed to see if some assistance could be given, but would not commit themselves until consultation with the city.

The clubs at present receive their water on a sliding scale, which it was pointed out, was specially instituted in 1925 for their benefit. Under this scale the clubs pay the usual rate for the first few hundred gallons, after which the rate decreases on a "more you use the less you pay" basis.

The council pointed out that any concession in the form of a reduced flat rate would be open to criticism as the cost would be borne by the taxpayers.
The matter was brought before the Oak Bay council following an effort by the Victoria Golf Club to obtain the concession from the City Council.
The Victoria council's reply to the request was that the golf links were in the municipality of Oak Bay and the city had nothing to do with water rates in effect there.

TRACES PATH OF GARDENING

E. W. Neel Tells of Development of Horticulture in England

Tracing the path of horticulture through the centuries, E. W. Neel, London, lecturer, showed how gardening developed in England from an early monastic beginning to the foundation of the botanical gardens which went out explorers all over the world in search of plants. In an interesting lecture before the Victoria Horticultural Society in the City Hall
yesterday evening.

"The history of British gardening very closely reflects the history of England," Mr. Neel said. "When were on, horticulture was at a standstill, but when peace reigned people took to growing flowers."

The first reference to gardening in England came from a Roman historian who wrote of the cherries there.
Horticulture died with the fall of the Roman Empire, but left its imprint in such names as beet and pear, which had Latin derivations.

During the civil wars and the dark ages the monasteries were the only places which had gardens. The monasteries were fairly safe from the attacks of the "robber" barons, the speaker said, and therefore were able to grow fruits and flowers without fear of being pillaged.

The famous flower market of England, the Covent Garden, got its name probably from a "convent garden."
All the flowers that were grown during medieval times were grown not for their beauty but for medicinal purposes.

The Normans brought the grape to England, Mr. Neel noted, and for a time the culture of the vine was an important part of the agricultural life of the people.

During the Wars of the Roses, gardening hit another slump, and again the monasteries had to shoulder the full burden of horticulture. The "dark period" saw a great advancement in the art of grafting, which was introduced, and gardens blossomed forth with fountains and pergolas typical of the time.

We have of an abbot during this time who refused to see Queen Elizabeth because he was too busy planting elm trees," Mr. Neel observed.
"The abbot, I might add, died in captivity."

GREATEST STIMULUS

The greatest stimulus to horticulture came in the sixteenth century, when the British sailors traveled all over the world. Sir Walter Raleigh brought back the potato from America and the artichoke and melon were introduced.

The Restoration period saw a change in the design of gardens. The British struck out from the more or less formal gardens of the Elizabethan period to a crasse for landscape gardening. This was carried to an extreme, but did bring forth the lovely lawns of the Old Country.

In 1600 the Royal Horticultural Society was founded and sent out collectors, one of whom Douglas came to Vancouver Island. Another fortune, disguised as an Oriental, managed to bring back the double y-haw from China.

At the beginning of the meeting it was decided to change the date of the Iris Show from May 20 to June 8.
A call for conveners to aid the committee in charge of selecting the five best gardens in the eight districts in which greater Victoria has been divided for the garden survey competition was issued by F. R. Leighton.
D. B. McTavish, vice-president of the society, was in the chair in the absence of the president, Horace Whitcomb.

The winners of the monthly competition were as follows:

PRESENTED TO KING IN LONDON

Above is a glimpse of the first page of the illuminated address which the Senate and the House of Commons of Canada sent to King George as an expression of loyalty and to congratulate him on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his accession to the throne. It was presented to the King in a box by Premier Bennett to-day.

REFORM NEEDED, PLUNKETT SAYS

But Only Wise Man Like
Premier Bennett Capable,
Victoria's M.P. Declares

Reform and a correction of past mistakes in her political policies provide Canada with the only way for a return to prosperity, D. B.
Plunkett, M.P., told members of the Victoria and District Junior Conservative Association at their meeting in the Campbell Building
yesterday evening.

He said it was easy for people to blame the government for the present state of affairs, but it was hard to start should be made. This could be done only by a man of great experience and ability such as Premier Bennett, who had proved his capacity in this matter by his move for reforms in the economic system, which move had already made a real contribution to the betterment of conditions and the return of prosperity.

Mr. Plunkett denounced the tendency of the four western provinces to finance at the expense of the federal treasury, with millions of dollars being paid out annually by the Ottawa government to sustain these provinces and to preserve their credit and that of the country as a whole.

"How long can it last?" Mr. Plunkett continued. "We still have the hope we can continue to borrow. There should be no flinching with spendthrift policies of placing provincial responsibility on the Dominion, or Dominion responsibilities on the provinces."

Mr. Plunkett also spoke of social life at Ottawa and its environment.
R. A. Wootton, of the provincial executive of the B.C. Conservative Association, delivered an address on "Conservatism," explaining what it was.

Thomas Woods, president of the junior group, presided. Miss C. Dennison sang, accompanied by Miss M.
Eggar. Miss Jessie Pollock gave Scottish and Irish dances, accompanied by Miss Irvine. After that there was general dancing until midnight.

Hudson's Bay Co. Windows Admired

During the last week-end the windows of the Hudson's Bay Company's department store have attracted considerable attention. Fittingly dressed in Jubilee attire, the red, white and blue of Great Britain is predominant in the window display. The large showcase, the great corner window shows scenes of their Majesties taking during their twenty-five-year reign.
Two almost life size colored portraits of King George and Queen Mary complete the display.

DRAIN TO GIVE FLOOD RELIEF

Relief Project of $13,000 in Willows Area Approved By Oak Bay Council

A $13,000 relief project which will reduce flooding hazards in the Willows district was approved by the Oak Bay Council in committee yesterday and work on the scheme was ordered to proceed immediately.

The municipality will install a thirty-inch drain from the Willows fair grounds to the Willows beach to avert further flooding of homes which occurred during last winter's deluge.

The scheme will be carried out solely by relief labor and is estimated to cost $13,000 for labor and materials.

It is anticipated the net cost will be in the neighborhood of $12,000, as savings of a fifteen-inch drain at present operating on part of the route is expected.

The definite route for the new main has not been decided, but it is expected to travel chiefly along Booth Avenue.

The drain will take care of all surplus water in the low-lying areas on the south side of the fair grounds, near the main entrance.

APPROVE LEVY FOR PENSIONS

Approval of a levy of $1 from all civic employees contributing to the superannuation fund was given by the City Council yesterday as the employees' share of costs of an actuarial survey required to bring in a draft act. A new act is desired by the municipalities of the province in place of that proposed at the last session of the Provincial House.

Mayor Leeming reported on an interview with Premier Pattullo, at which a request to have the government absorb municipal deficiencies in the superannuation fund had been made. That request had been tabled pending the return of the Provincial Secretary and the Minister of Finance.
It was pointed out that unless the government met these deficits the costs to the employees would be greatly reduced.

At a meeting in Vancouver on Saturday the special municipal committee on superannuation had considered the necessity of securing an actuary. A Vancouver actuary could be secured at one-third of the cost of S. H. Pipe, Toronto expert, the mayor said.

Levying of a $1 fee from the civic employees, a policy to which the employees had consented, was approved. The municipalities would provide an equal amount, the mayor explained. The total collected all over the province would be $5,000, and actuarial work would take about three months, he concluded.

THE PUBLIC SHOULD KNOW

PREMIER PATULLO HAS ISSUED A public statement which contains important information relative to the problem of unemployment.

He points out that "there exists the intolerable condition of a large body of unemployed men—recently domiciled in camps maintained by the federal government under the Department of National Defence—now supporting themselves as best they may." The most arresting facts to which Mr. Patullo drew attention will bear repetition:

There were on April 15 last, 4,000 single men in National Defence Relief Camps in British Columbia, while the province maintained 15,000 single men and women—6,000 in Vancouver alone—in their homes.

The cost to the provincial treasury alone is approximately $450,000 a month. Ottawa adds a fixed grant of $150,000 a month.

Of these men in relief camps, more than 75 per cent are not residents of British Columbia.

Special health camps are maintained exclusively by the province, and these and other health services cost approximately $18,000 a month. Medical care is given and special attention paid to diet and sanitation for those unfit for labor.

Recreational and physical training centres for unemployed youth have been established and placed under expert supervision. Enrolment of 5,000 attests to the popularity of these centres.

Your government, apart from all this, is maintaining an average of 7,500 physically unfit men a month in the city of Vancouver. Last year this branch of relief administered from Hamilton Hall cost $1,000,000.

The cost of relief for the year 1934 was as follows: Provincial government, $4,468,785; Dominion Government, $2,302,650; municipalities, $1,250,062. This does not include costs of relief camps to the Dominion Government.

It would not be fair to attribute to the government at Ottawa all the blame for this deplorable condition, but it is right to point out that if, instead of pursuing policies which have contracted trade, consequently reducing the demand for labor and services, it had grappled with a situation which, as Premier Bennett declared in the election campaign of 1930, was serious, in an effective manner, the terms of Mr. Patullo's statement—if it had been necessary to issue a statement at all—would have been considerably different from what they are.

THE CHALLENGE OF YOUTH

WHATEVER ELSE WE MAY SAY about the present moment in world history, we at least have to admit that it is exciting. Sinclair Lewis brought this out admirably in a recent article in a magazine. In the uncertainty of the present he sees youth presented with the greatest of all challenges.

"When all of youth that has been born in 1885-1935 shall have had its chance, this half century may perhaps be put down as the noblest in history," he remarks. "But to take that chance, youth must not be afraid to show itself, not as perpetually clever and shiny and speeding, but as filled with the awkward, faith-dipped simplicity which is the quality of greatness."

"It must not be afraid of anything—for just ahead of us may lie the world's most vicious war, or the benign curbing of cancer and tuberculosis; another Shakespeare, or another scourge of Dillingers in low places and Kreugers in high; a flight to Mars, or a descent into an ocean of lava; a peaceful world nation, or a world shattered into 10,000 bandit tribes." And then he adds this significant comment: "There are two equal sins for a thinker or a doer in this year of 1935: to despair of the noble future of mankind; and to believe that this savage race, mankind—so much more savage than the tigers, because we kill not just for meat, but for our highest ideals—can be made all sweet and holy just by a few fine phrases."

A size-up of this kind is worth re-reading and thinking about. For while nearly all of us are painfully aware of the disastrous things that may happen to the world during the next generation, we often forget that it is equally possible for truly magnificent things to happen.

The world may go up as well as down. It has cut its moorings and is off on one of the most momentous trips it has ever taken; if the prospect is frightening, it can also be encouraging.

Too much optimism at a time like this is silly—and so is too much pessimism. If we can temper optimism with a sane realization of the difficulties ahead and an iron determination to make things work out for the benefit of mankind as a whole, this time may be known as the prelude to the greatest era of advancement in the history of the race.

SOME TRADE FIGURES

WHILE IT HAS LONG BEEN A MATTER of common knowledge that the value of exports from the United States exceeds that of imports by substantial proportions, and that this situation is reversed in Great Britain, it is by no means equally well known that the great bulk of the excess exports of the United States constitutes the major portion of the import surplus of Great Britain. Since 1926 the United States has exported commodities to an average annual value of $561,000,000 more than the value of her commodity imports. In those same years the average annual excess of exports over imports in the United States trade with the British Empire has amounted to $495,000,000, and that in her trade with Great Britain alone to $395,000,000.

The only parts of the British Empire which consistently export more goods to the United States than they receive from that country are India, Ceylon and Malaya. Heavy United States imports of rubber, tin, tea and hemp account for this relationship. The most average value of the United States surplus commodity imports from these three parts of the empire has averaged $239,000,000.

It should be noted that in the period mentioned, Canadian imports from the United States have exceeded exports to that country by an average of $227,000,000. In 1933, this import surplus fell to $26,000,000 but it rose again to $70,000,000 in 1934. For the empire as a whole the balance fell as low as $176,000,000 in 1933 but rose again to $284,000,000 in 1934.

The large expenditures in Canada of tourists from the United States tend to bring about a better balance between the two countries than is generally appreciated. With due allowance for tourist trade it would seem that the United States has spent more on Canadian goods since 1931 than Canadians have spent in the United States. In a like manner, on balance, the United States pays heavy amounts to Great Britain for shipping charges and insurance. The full details of the financial balance between Great Britain and the United States would make a long story. In an unbiased accounting of the financial relationships between the two countries should these factors be overlooked.

A RACKET

THE OLD-TIME CHAIN-LETTER racket has hit Victoria once more. It has been running wild in the United States for several weeks. This epidemic, however, is a straight gambling proposition.

Our neighbors on the south have made arrangements to have the circulation of these letters made illegal. That, presumably, is the reason why there is an invasion of Canada.

We are reminded again of our old friend, the Spanish Prisoner—the tale of a great fortune hidden away in a phantom portmanteau, its owner languishing in jail, but who can release the treasure as soon as he is provided with a fair sum.

By this time most people ought to be wise to the chain-letter racket—now a gambling racket—and the Spanish Prisoner business.

TOO LATE

ONLY THROUGH A POLICY OF RE-form, and by the correction of the mistakes of the past, can Canada and Canadians hope for a return of that prosperity that is their inheritance and right." We have quoted from the morning paper's report of a speech which Mr. D. B. Plunkett, M.P., delivered before the Victoria and District Junior Conservative Association last night.

Mr. Plunkett is quite right. We commend his suggestion to Mr. Bennett, who changed public policy to such an extent in the early days of his administration as to require, nearly five years afterward, very extensive measures of reform. Unfortunately, however, the Prime Minister, deaf and dumb to all warnings and advice from the Liberal opposition, has waited too long. There would have been no need to talk about reform in 1935 if he had not interfered with the policy which, under Mr. Mackenzie King, gave to Canada and Canadians that prosperity that is their inheritance and right.

In the five years of government by the party to which Mr. Plunkett belongs Canadians have seen an idle army of less than 120,000 expand to one of three-quarters of a million, with more than one million Canadians on relief in one form or another. In those same years Canadians have seen their external trade reduced to a third of what it was in 1930, and only in recent months has it once again touched the billion-dollar mark. It still is less than half what it was when Mr. King left office.

Like other Conservative speakers during the forthcoming election campaign, Mr. Plunkett, hoping again to be sent to Ottawa as Victoria's representative, will find it difficult to present a very impressive appeal to the public for the manner in which the Bennett government has conducted its affairs.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

ENGLAND AND GERMANY
The Detroit News

England, on her own account, does not fear Germany as does either France or Russia. She does not believe that she will be the first object of any attack. Indeed, there is much reason for believing that Germany would not force a war without being sure that England would not be against her.

CANADA'S TOURIST RECEIPTS
The Rochester Democrat and Chronicle

Canada sees results of the Ottawa trade agreements of 1922 in the form of increased exports to other members of the British Empire to the extent of $118,000,000 in the last two years. The increase has been especially marked in exports to Great Britain, rising from $178,170,000 in 1922, to $270,594,000 in 1934. Exports to non-empire countries increased by $41,000,000. . . . Even more to the point, it would seem, as an explanation of Canada's improved position is the fact that in 1934 tourist expenditures increased to $118,000,000, or $28,000,000 more than the year before. The net result of this, according to the report of the Royal Bank of Canada at Montreal, was to reverse the flow of Canadian capital from an unfavorable to a favorable balance.

FRENCH TROOPS MOVE
The Hartford Times

Exact analysis of the French mood and mind with regard to Germany in these days of rapid diplomatic and military events in the Reich is impossible. One is left to conjecture what the major aims may be in the distribution of some 60,000 troops along the Franco-German border. A safe inference would seem to be that the military display is to impress Germany with French preparedness in the hope that diplomacy may be given more fruitful opportunity. Although such warlike displaying of guns and soldiers might suggest a menacing gesture, it is quite certainly a purely defensive strategy on France's part. That country is prepared to prevent, however, German rearmament at Rhineland. But on that score, also, the first move would be up to Germany.

A THOUGHT

Dear beloved, average not yourselves, but rather give place unto wrath; for it is written, Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord.—Romans 12:19. By taking revenge, a man is but even with his enemy; but in passing over it, he is superior.—Bacon.

Loose Ends

An obscure Fascist is discovered right here in this place—a substantial citizen falls to keep his feet on the ground—Mr. Burton gets some exercise—and we men are awfully after all.

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

FASCIST

IT IS ALWAYS JOLLY to find out what you are. I mean, so few people ever know what they are. Their friends hesitate to tell them the truth. It is only when, in the course of earning a living, your name happens to be in the paper frequently and you become a sort of familiar object, like the water hydrant at the corner or the handsome young policeman at Yates and Douglas—it is only then that people begin to tell each other what you are.

I have just learned in a roundabout fashion what I am. It seems that I am a Fascist. A student of public affairs, a man of deep learning, a professional scholar and teacher, recently told a club in Victoria what I was. After expounding Fascist doctrines in the course of an able address he quoted me as being in full support of his whole programme—just two jolly Fascists together. So now we know.

It is refreshing to discover that you are a Fascist after you have been generally considered a Communist by a large part of the population; suspected of Conservatism by others, and privately convicted of Liberalism in the minds of many worthy people. It shows you how, in these times, the public insists on labeling everything and everybody; insists on labeling the most earnest and ablest of us as part of some dead-end propaganda; insists on putting every man in a group or niche.

A while ago whenever a man said anything objectionable publicly Liberals said, well, of course, the fellow always was a Conservative at heart; and Conservatives said they had always known he had Liberal leanings. In the last year or so the world has advanced another stage and acquired a new set of labels until to-day you will hear members of the Union Club saying that Gerry McGeer is a Communist, while members of the C.C.F. protest emphatically that he is a Fascist. To members of the Union Club a man like Mr. Stevens is a Communist, too. To the C.C.F. he is an undoubted Fascist. To me these gentlemen are just politicians looking for the way home, but that is probably because I am too innocent to be wiles of politics to perceive the deeper significance of the times.

It seems that once you open your mouth in public, even if it be merely to state your living and without thought of influencing anybody, you must be on one side of the fence or the other. You must be a Communist or a Fascist. Even though most of us are nothing but lost travelers between the furrow and the stars.

INTELLIGENT

A substantial citizen of Victoria writes to say that he finds himself in vigorous disagreement with me. This is not the first sign of intelligence among the substantial citizens of Victoria, but it is gratifying just the same. It seems that this gentleman doesn't agree with what I said recently about Mr. Webb, president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, who came out here to sell the virtues of the west to "keep their heads cool and their feet on the ground."

With Mr. Webb's views in opposition to any governmental interference in the course of business, my friend is in complete agreement and he says I don't know what I'm talking about. I merely suggest to my friend that he ask himself privately next time he buys an automobile whether he still agrees with Mr. Webb and the eastern manufacturers. I fancy a British Columbian will find it extremely difficult to keep his head cool and his feet on the ground when he is in the act of paying $400 or so more for an car than he would have to pay for it in Seattle.

CRUSADERS

DEAR MR. BURTON, there seems to be a sort of procession of wise men from the east marching gallantly out here to the frontier these days to put us in our places. Next to Mr. Webb comes C. L. Burton, president of the government to have business done; who wants to abolish "the Harry and Gerry" and who objects to "political gangsters who destroy credit," a delicate reference to Mr. Stevens and Mr. McGeer.

The inoffensive Gerry has replied suitably to Mr. Burton with a great many adjectives which I should hesitate to print under the law of libel, and have everybody seem to be even. But if the wise men of the east have organized a kind of drive upon us, a sort of crusade to crush our rising radicalism, some kind friend ought to tell them to save their money.

I mean it is rather pitiful to see two great men like Mr. Webb and Mr. Burton coming out here to crush out radicalism, and then making three radicals grow where only one grew before. Consideration won't stand up insistently under the efforts of these gentry to unify the country. The nation will inevitably fall apart if they persist in their attempts to hold it together.

But I think Mr. McGeer was a little too much roused by the painful blunder of Mr. Burton, of Robert Simpson Limited, Mr. Burton is trying to sweep back the tide of these times with one of his mail order catalogues. Let him keep on. He probably needs the exercise.

GRAVE ISSUE

BUT LET US TURN our minds from these petty troubles and concentrate on something serious. I mean to say, one of the current signs of growing debility among our male population is the habit of taking hats off in elevators in the presence of strange ladies. For years and years I fought against this weakness, but I still find myself taking off my hat in elevators in the presence of strange ladies. It is sheer lack of moral courage, of course, which makes men like me take off their hats in elevators. We lack the hardihood to keep them on.

There is no more reason why a man should take off his hat in an elevator in the presence of strange ladies than on the street in the presence of strange ladies. An elevator, I take it, is a public conveyance or thoroughfare. Yet men don't take off their hats to strange ladies in a bus, a street car or a street. They don't even take them off in a store. But as soon as they walk into the elevator of the same store, off come their hats.

The ladies, while insisting on every other man's privilege, such as smoking in elevators, don't take off their cigarettes from their mouths. If men removed their hats in elevators, it would be a demonstration of respect and esteem for strange ladies, one could forgive it. But their motive is something entirely different and not half so respectable. They remove their hats in elevators because they lack the moral fibre to keep them on. I only know one man who has sufficient moral fibre to keep his hat on, but he is a very brave man who won a medal in the war, and even succeeded in avoiding matrimony; what I would call a giant among men, a kind of superman. But even he tells me it took him years to get up sufficient courage to keep his hat on in an elevator.

He said he would march into an elevator determined to keep his hat on, vowing to himself that he would keep it on and then, seeing some other fellow bareheaded, that natural weakness in us all, that secret streak of yellow, would assert itself. Off would come his own hat.

He says he almost gave up in despair after repeated failures and had all but lost his self-respect. But he persisted and finally mastered himself. After the first time, he says, it's not so bad, though he confesses to me that even now, after years of experience and many notable victories, he still has to fight it out with

THE ROYAL ADDRESS

To the Editor:—Permit me through your correspondence column, to compliment the management of the Victoria Broadcasting Station CFCF, on Vancouver Island, for the fine program of their Majesty's Silver Jubilee programme, which deserves special mention.

Trusting this will be conveyed to the Canadian Radio Commission with sincere appreciation and thanks.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

To the Editor:—Regardless of the prejudices or convictions of those who are inclined to the League of Nations it must be admitted that the league officials are engaged in a worthy cause when they attempt to check the flames of German militarism and thereby prevent another world war. It is most fortunate that there exists at Geneva all the machinery for launching a peace movement without any waste of time. It would have been extremely fortunate for the nations of the earth if some peace promoting power had existed in the summer days of 1914 when half the world plunged recklessly into a slaughterhouse.

UNEMPLOYED YOUTH

To the Editor:—Not long ago the Dean was saying "What can be done for our unemployed youth. Is it too late?" etc. Well, sir, if he would go to see the cabinet on behalf of the relief camp workers, he would be doing something practical.

"Retired Person" asks, "Is it because they do not hear more about the Prayer Book that age thirty to forty don't come to church?" No, indeed, sir, it is because the church is not taking more interest in social questions. We do not want to hear people's little personal troubles, but what they are doing to prevent war and unemployment, etc. Not in a tourist circuit parade with a brass band, but in a work and wage programme.

AGED FORTY.

To the Editor:—In yesterday's issue you published a news item concerning "John Bull" in which Mr. J. L. Gill said to have included, in an address to the English and history section of the Ontario Education Association, the following answer as a humorous story: "An English musician named John Bull wrote 'God Save the King.'"

That Mr. Gill was a little hasty in his criticism can be easily proved. Dr. John Bull (c. 1845-1898) was a very real person and a musician of such distinction that he has been termed "the Last of his age." In 1819 he is alleged to have composed an "Ave" which is believed by many to be the earliest form of the national anthem. The Encyclopaedia Britannica says that John Bull "has long been credited with the origin of the anthem," and also "What appears to be certain is that 1749 is the earliest date assignable to the substantial national anthem as we know it, and that, as a result of study, had been evolved out of earlier forms. Bull's is the earliest form of the air." In the article "God Save the King" in Grove's Dictionary—Lives and Musicians the writer says: "In the various articles which appear from time to time in magazines and newspapers, Henry Carey still divides about equally with Dr. John Bull the credit of its composition." Surely all this justifies the ten young people who gave this answer to the question, and says Mr. Gill open to the charge that his own ignorance is "more pathetic than humorous," to use his own words.

ROGER GOODLAND.

ONLY A SNOWMAN

To the Editor:—This was the remark passed by a man on leaving the Empire Theatre Sunday night after listening to Rev. Dr. Davies. The writer was invited to go by a friend who said, "I like going just for a good laugh."

Does it not seem a pity that this preacher, who claims to be one of our outstanding public men, should, on a Sunday evening—his day of duty—be given up to spiritual help and especially these days when the young need the advice and encouragement of a man who is not only a man of letters but a man of action? I think Dr. Davies should take a little time off to study his Bible and learn what is the Christian spirit. To my mind a Christian does not look like the bad in everybody. He tries to help by his own words, deeds and actions.

Dr. Davies has a big following, whether they go to get a good laugh or for other reasons, and it should make him feel keenly his responsibility in giving them something more fitting for a Sunday evening than listening to his mind against those who have tried to do all in their power to help, even though they make mistakes.

"What good are men of this type to a community? What good can come in spending hours and hours answering questions (one man's opinion)? The young people deserve and expect more. They can have a laugh every night as our theatre, but do not deprecate our one day of the week that our Master taught us to keep holy."

THE CHURCH

To the Editor:—"Retired Person" asks: "Why is it more people between the ages of thirty and forty-five do not go to church, particularly in the Cathedral?" I suppose I come within that category. My little boy, aged five, was baptized in the Cathedral, so I sort of look upon it as my spiritual home and I used to delight in the Dean's sermons and find them helpful and inspiring, with food for thought enough to last the week. We used to feel we were really learning something. But, after a while, I and many of my friends found the Oxford Group type of sermon irritating and more than it helped us and we weaned of them and began to long for something in more grown-up language. Of course, I know the Dean is trying to reach the young folks in their teens, but most of them go to high school or college and surely it would be good for them to see their

PLAYWRIGHTS ARE PRAISED

Work of A. MacCorkindale and Reby Edmond, Both of Victoria, Noted at Festival

By E. A. Special commendation of two young Victoria playwrights, Archie MacCorkindale and Reby Edmond, was expressed by Lady Tupper, M.C. Drama Festival adjudicator, during her comments on the second night's performances at the Shrine Auditorium yesterday evening. At the same time, Lady Tupper said she felt the worthwhile efforts of local Little Theatre people were, to judge by the audience's date, not meeting with the public support with which similar efforts in other Canadian cities were received.

Of Miss Edmond's play, "The Jewels of the Lure," a tragedy with a decided melodramatic aspect, Lady Tupper, who has considerable Dominion-wide influence as a producer and backer of theatrical works, said she hoped to take it back with her and do it some time herself. She found that the author had successfully created an atmosphere suitable to the sombre theme.

Of the acting of Bert Bailey as Ippolito in this play, the adjudicator had nothing but praise. It was considered that Mr. Bailey had established the characterization immediately and held it throughout, and that his scream and subsequent death were particularly good. The audience indicated its approval of these comments by vigorous applause.

Lady Tupper's main criticism of the production had to do with the lighting effects at certain moments and with one or two details of the movements of Ippolito (Bill Lamberti), who was the central figure. Roy Shadobolt had the third principal role and Harold Gelling was the guardian of the tomb. Ethel Reese-Burns directed.

The evening was auspiciously directed as well as acted. In both these roles he was warmly congratulated by the adjudicator. He was a hat-trick, as it were, he did not quite succeed, as an actor Mr. MacCorkindale has much to his credit. ("A Chinese Fragments" will be remembered), but Lady Tupper found his acting as the guilty chauffeur in his own play not strong enough.

The play was described as having excellent construction, and the interest, good characterization, pace and variety, and a professional would have been proud of calling it his own. Performances specially noted were those of E. L. Byng as the judge, Dale Homer-Dixon as the girl from the Ziegfeld Follies and Mabel Ridley as the charwoman.

But, to earn the prize already recorded, it must be that the whole cast of thirteen was well-balanced and competent in various ways. Others who contributed were Gordon Butterland, Michael Heppie, William Willmott, Patricia Pennock, Logan Byng, Noel Cusack, Archie MacCorkindale, Mary MacKay, William Lewis and George Durbin.

"Our Husband," a play which Lady Tupper said she remembered being put on by amateur companies twenty-five years ago, came next and the play has to do with an English lord and the dinner party he arranged for his four ex-wives, and, as the adjudicator noted, it requires a most sophisticated treatment. (It seems it must have been quite a stunner in those calmer pre-war days).

P. E. Corby, as the lord, was considered to be too nice a man to find himself in the predicament of a reformed divorcee whose ex-wives all refused to consider selecting one among their number to renew their former husband. Elma Morby, one of the Lady Bellingfordes, was praised for her sense of characterization. Beanie McInnes, Ted Rutledge and Gladys West were the other wives, and D. J. MacDonald was the butler. Nellie Scovcroft directed.

The last play of the evening, a comedy called "Mable," was a thing delightful and ingenious about it that appealed to the audience.

"A year ago," writes a woman, "I was racked with pain from rheumatism, and other complaints. I got so ungainly that I was ashamed of my figure. I used to feel so miserable, until I was persuaded by my husband to take Kruschen's. After taking Kruschen for a short time the rheumatism was less painful, my nerves got stronger, and my step lighter. I am not boasting when I say that I feel younger and more active every day, and I have a much better figure and am much healthier than I have been for years." (Mrs.) J. S.

Kruschen is based on scientific principles. It is an ideal blend of mineral salts found in the ancient waters of those European spas which have been resorted to from time immemorial for the relief of various ailments, and for the maintenance of a perfect figure. Kruschen helps glands, nerves, blood and body organs to function properly and maintain a splendid degree of health and strength. Take a half-teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning. A jar of Kruschen salts that will last four weeks costs but 75c. at any Drug Store.

though, as Lady Tupper said, it was not well knit together as far as scenes and smoothly run. However, the tempo was found to be too slow. Don Oakey, as the office boy, was described as "extremely good comedy," though "a little outside" to a lively office boy. However, Mr. Oakey gave a performance which was extremely infectious. Other parts were taken by Chris Muller, also George, Ray Langley, Ethel Gelling and Ron Campbell, who played the part of the office boy. During one of the intermissions, Mayor Leeming addressed a few words to the audience. Once again, musical selections were played with distinction by the Okefenokee Trio, consisting of Helen Okefenokee, piano; Fay Okefenokee, violinist, and Carl Bean, cellist.

A matinee was held this afternoon for the younger people. To-night's programme, commencing at 8 o'clock, included Reby Edmond's "The Road From Atonement," Archie MacCorkindale's "Chateau des Ambassadeurs," and Douglas M. Dix's "The Hundredth Trick." These pieces are described as dramatic, modern interludes and romantic tragedy, respectively.

MONEY POWER TALK THEM

The trouble with allowing money power to control production was that production was only then permitted when returns were assured and those in control of finance permitted to do as they pleased. It was a meeting in C.C.P. headquarters Monday evening.

It was apparent, therefore, that social credit systems would not operate any better. Social credit, he explained, was quite distinct from socialism. It could only result in unbearable taxation upon the owners of production or in inflation and a consequent rise in the price of goods beyond the limit of wages.

He did not think the C.C.P. would have any trouble solving the so-called problem of finance. There was no need for elaborate financial system to exchange goods between the provinces of Canada, he claimed.

SAYS KING SIMPLE MAN

Rev. E. F. Church Tells Kiwanians He Is Unspoiled and First Real British King

"I personally believe that every throne in the world will tumble except that of Great Britain," stated Rev. E. F. Church, when speaking to members of the Kiwanis Club at luncheon yesterday in the Empress Hotel. He spoke on "The Significance of the Silver Jubilee."

"We may duly reflect what has taken place in the past," said Mr. Church, "and we may be grateful for it. The significance of the Jubilee was the fact that we were honoring the King and in the king a man—a fairly intelligent, not a brilliant man, an honest and good man, a true man, a man who had the best fortune to be placed on the throne in time of stress, but who had the good fortune to marry a woman every bit as good as himself."

King George had the good fortune not to be specially trained for the throne, Mr. Church said. He was trained to take his place on the bridge of a battleship. He loved the sea and loved it yet, the speaker declared. He missed, during his sailor days, with common men.

"He knew what it was to have grimy hands and a sweaty face," Mr. Church said. The speaker compared the life of King George V with that of his father. Edward's life was cursed by the fact that he was the heir-apparent. He was a patriot. He was a cosmopolitan king, while George V was the first real British king.

"Edward knew Paris better than the guides," Mr. Church said, "and could speak German better than the Germans." "George missed all this sort of thing," Mr. Church continued. "He came to the throne unspoiled and simple. He was England's first workman king. He went out to meet the people. When he stopped to give a penny to a beggar it was not a publicity stunt. The continental called George insular, but he was a wise man. He loved his home. He had no diplomacy and no tact. He says what he feels. In every great moment of the Empire it is to Buckingham Palace that the crowds go. Buckingham is the mother house of the Empire, as Westminster Abbey is the altar of the Empire."

Howan Mackenzie, president of the club, who occupied the chair, introduced Mr. Church, who was thanked on behalf of the club by Rev. A. M. Acheson-Lyle.

RHEUMATISM DRIVE OVER $16,000 MARK

Tourist Campaign Totals Spurt Upward; Work Extended For Another Week

The campaign chest of the new Tourist Trade Development Association under the Five Year Plan was swelled to over the $16,000 mark by the returns of the various divisions and teams reporting at the dinner at Spencer Limited yesterday evening under Mayor Leeming.

When the total was made known, the mayor announced that he knew of another $1,000 yet unreported which would put the total to above the $16,000 mark. This compares with $13,977 as of last Friday evening.

Because the teams are just now getting into good working order and there are several hundred selected names yet to be canvassed, the campaign was extended to another week. They were introduced by the mayor and presented with silver cups. The winner was Neil Duval, who made the trip in four hours twenty minutes; second, John Newman, four hours twenty-seven minutes; third, Ted Whitehead, four hours, thirty-five minutes.

After singing under Norval Peterson and P. Shoemaker the campaign's theme song, "Sing, Sing, Sing for us," the campaigners chose as their community song of the evening, "The Sidewalks of New York," and "There's a Long, Long Trail."

"I wonder if we people in Victoria have any realization of what the development of the tourist industry means to us," said Mayor Leeming. "I am sure we haven't got to the fringes of it. By development of our tourist opportunities, in five years we should be able to restore to the capital value of land to the extent of $25,000,000 or $50,000,000 more than it is to-day. And that we could do without one bit of booming. This tourist business here has been practically untouched."

As an instance of the possibilities, the mayor told how 27,000 cars from California last year came north and entered the Raintier National Park, but of these only 30 per cent came into this territory.

The one-minute speech of the evening was made by T. F. McConnell. The detailed results of the drive reported yesterday evening were:

CLAIM WAGES OVER REQUEST

Carpenters Getting More Than They Ask, Mayor
Leeming Contends

Carpenters on relief receive more than $6 a day if aid other than cash is counted, Mayor David Leeming contended when the question of pay for men in that trade was raised at the City Council meeting yesterday.

A lengthy discussion on the matter brought forth a charge from Alderman Walter Lunney that workmen had themselves to blame more than anyone else when it came to the reduction of their pay.

He was prepared, he said, to bring in a resolution declaring all relief cases in the category of manual laborers, who in turn would be trained men, for specialized work. The city's action in using relief labor for projects requiring skilled workmen was unfair competition for the contractors, he said. His suggestion was not supported.

The discussion started when a letter was read from the carpenters' union citing wage scales in the trade, scales allowed by the city and scales set by the Federal Government WORKMEN TO BLAME

The greatest offenders in the matter of wage cutting were the carpenters themselves, Alderman Lunney contended, saying they went around the city offering to work for less than contractors.

He specialized the difference in wages for shipbuilders and ordinary carpenters, a matter not mentioned in the letter from the carpenters' union, which quoted wages at Yarrow Limited.

The Dominion government, he claimed, gave higher wages through a political motive.

Carpenters in Victoria were working privately for an average of forty-five cents an hour, while the city paid fifty cents, he said.

SUGGEST WAGE RULING

He suggested the carpenters' union interview the fair wage officer to request a scale.

S. O. Snowden, in reply to question, stated some men worked as carpenters for seven days to meet their $26 a month allowance.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar contended the Dominion government wage was a fair scale and was not a matter of politics. He thought all municipalities should pay up to that scale.

"When we have occasion to use carpenters or mechanics, we should pay them the Dominion rate," he said.

Before the discussion, Alderman Lunney asked carpenters received 45 cents a day, he said. Some building laborers had to learn more than carpenters, he added. If the city was going to raise one class, he thought it should raise others.

Mayor David Leeming stated ordinary carpenters were receiving $6 a day in working off their $29 a month allowance. In addition they received rent and some groceries, which he stated the total up to $6 a day, he contended.

MORE THAN REQUEST

"In effect, they are getting more than they ask for in cash and kind," he declared.

Examples were cited to show the various returns married carpenters with families received.

Alderman Lunney then brought in the suggestion the city employ no skilled workmen in future from the relief lists. All relief recipients, he added, should be marked down as laborers and skilled work should be done by men not on relief who, he believed, should receive union rates.

He urged contractors be allowed to do the work without unfair competition from the city.

Alderman Dewar agreed with the move to have contractors employing union men work on major projects.

The letter raising the issue was then referred to the mayor and public works executives for reply.

SUNSHINE INN NEEDS HELP

Cash Deficits in Last Two Months; Fewer Meals Now Required

Although the service required from it is being lessened, the Sunshine Inn, which provides free meals for Victoria's hungry, have fallen off to such an extent that deficits of more than $100 have occurred in each of the last two months, according to the report of Captain B. J. Gadsden, manager.

An average of 191 meals daily, or 5,733 in all, were served during April, Capt. Gadsden stated. This is 521 meals less than in March and 990 less than in April last year.

The cash deficit was $136.36, added to the deficit of $126.27 in March. At the end of April the Inn had been operating for 1,213 consecutive days and had served a grand total of 285,085 meals in thirty-nine months.

Starting May 1, the Inn went on a one-meal-a-day schedule. It is served between 3:30 and 4:30 o'clock.

Recent cash donations were acknowledged as follows: John D. Virtue $5, J. O. Clay $5, John A. Grant $5, Col. F. A. Lindsay $48.46, Mrs. Pierce (Rocabella) $5, Beaver Club $1, Mrs. Sandall $2, total $71.46.

Canadian Press
New York, May 8.—George S. V. Wandling, the "Adonis" of the New York Police Department, resigned yesterday. Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine, in accepting the resignation, declared that Wandling was going into the hotel business at Brunet Station, Quebec.

Wandling is thirty-nine years old. He was called "Adonis" because of his handsome appearance, the term being attached to him by other patrolmen when he gained widespread publicity following his marriage to a wealthy woman.

BOUQUETS AND SLAMS GIVEN

City Council Lauds Blue
Ribbons and Censures
Radio Commission

Bouquets and tributes were tossed accurately at yesterday afternoon's City Council meeting as the mayor and aldermen bestowed accolades on J. A. "Barney" Barnwell and the members of his Blue Ribbons, Canadian men's basketball champions, and congratulated their fire on the Canadian radio commission.

At the appearance of Mr. Barnwell, manager of the basketball team, Alderman F. R. Brown rose to pay a glowing tribute to his management and his team for the excellent games they had presented in the Western Canada and Canadian finals for the basketball crown.

A regular motion was introduced lauding highly the sportsmanship of the team and expressing the city's official thanks for the valuable publicity by way of a cash grant to be given as soon as possible.

The motion was carried.

Alderman James Adam spoke highly of the team and the games and joined with the other aldermen in thanking Mr. Barnwell for the excellent seats he had provided for the council.

Alderman Archie Willis added his praise to the team and Mayor David Leeming topped off the eulogies with his congratulations and good wishes.

While they were on the subject of congratulations, Alderman Lunney rose to express the city's appreciation of the fine nation-wide broadcast the Canadian Radio Commission had presented on the King's Jubilee.

"I'd like to express our appreciation to the commission for its co-operation in broadcasting the basketball finale," Alderman Adam said in sarcastic vein.

Two or three aldermen called out their protest, declaring the commission deserved censure not praise for its failure to put the broadcast of the games on the national hook-up.

KICK IN PANTS

"The citizens of Victoria are paying a $2 a year radio license fee and getting a kick in the pants," Alderman Andrew McGavin declared. "We ought to be in the hook-up," he contended. "How long are we going to stand for the treatment we are receiving and why should we pay the fee?" he asked.

"If one of the big shots wanted to go on and give us a lot of hot air for the treatment we are receiving in securing the hook-up, even if $5 per cent of the public tuned him out," the mayor remarked strong telegrams had gone from Victoria urging the nation-wide broadcast of the basketball series.

"And you got no action," Alderman McGavin contended.

SEEK GRANT FOR SEAWALL

City Council to Ask Government For Funds in Line With Grant to Vancouver

Taking cognizance of the special grant given to Vancouver for restoration work at Stanley Park, necessitated by severe storms there, the City Council yesterday supported a motion introduced by Alderman John A. Worthington asking for special assistance from the provincial government for repair work to the storm-damaged seawall at Ross Bay.

A special committee will wait upon the government in an effort to secure assistance, on the grounds Victoria is equally entitled to such aid as is the Terminal City.

The resolution, introduced by Alderman Worthington, read:

"Whereas, in consequence of a very severe storm which, occupied on December 22, 1932, the City of Victoria, experienced a catastrophe in respect to its Ross Bay seawall which was extensively damaged by undermining, pounding of its surface and destruction of large sections of its cement railing;

MUCH ALREADY SPENT

"And whereas the city already has found it necessary to make extraordinary expenditures on repairs amounting to $6,916.75 for materials and supervision and $2,723.65 for its one-third share of the cost of paid labor employed on the work, and will be required to make further special expenditures amounting to at least $2,000 in this connection during the current year;

"And whereas the City of Vancouver recently was granted by the Provincial Government the sum of $20,000 to assist in restoration work when Stanley Park was damaged by storm;

"And whereas, in the opinion of this council, government consideration should be given to the City of Victoria in respect of the storm damage sustained to Ross Bay seawall;

"Therefore be it resolved that the Mayor be requested to appoint a special committee to wait upon the provincial authorities to endeavor to secure such consideration by way of a cash grant to be given as soon as possible.

The motion was carried.

RATE BY-LAW INTRODUCED

Short Discussion Clears Up Points; Teachers to Get Partial Restoration

The city's 1935 tax by-law setting the rate at forty-one mills on the dollar was introduced and given its first readings by the City Council yesterday afternoon.

The by-law went through that procedure to ensure the legality of its passage by May 15, the final date on which Victoria may set its rate.

The council will meet again at 7:30 o'clock Monday evening to go through its estimates finally in order to give final passage to the by-law.

The by-law in the form it was introduced yesterday, is subject to amendment when the estimates are completed, but no change in the rate from forty-one mills is contemplated.

That figure is made up at present of 10.7796 for general purposes, 13.1225 for interest on debt, and 11.0981 for schools, giving the total of forty-one mills.

Although mainly a formality, the introduction of the by-law brought forth one or two points which have been unsettled to date.

TEACHERS TO BENEFIT

According to a statement from the mayor, the school teachers, in line with civic employees would have a per cent of their salary reductions restored.

Alderman Andrew McGavin rose to ask if the council had a right to go over the police estimates before they were passed. He did not think those officials of the department who had not sustained salary reductions should enjoy the 3 per cent restoration. He was assured only those who had been cut would be affected.

Alderman Archie Willis rose to ask if the 3 per cent were based on the original salaries or on the reduced wages, following the cut.

He was told they would be based on the latter. Alderman Willis drew the council's attention to the fact there was a difference unfavorable to the employees if the restorations were made on a percentage basis on the lower wages.

Since the estimates draft had last been before the council, the mayor stated, the sum of $40,000 had been added to them. That had raised an added obstacle in cutting down the budget, he said.

NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

Toronto, May 8 (Canadian Press)—Representatives from every province in Canada are to meet in the near future to form a national council of the League for National Government.

Colonel James Mear, chairman of the temporary organization committee stated yesterday evening at a meeting here, membership in the Toronto branch was about 5,000. It was stated

SEEK TO STOP HOUSE CUTTING

City Council to Determine Steps to Avoid Pre-reversion Demolition

Action to prevent owners of property heavily in arrears from gutting structures just before they came into the hands of the city was sought by the City Council at its meeting yesterday afternoon.

Alderman F. R. Brown brought forward a resolution to that end. It requested the city solicitor to inform the owners what steps could be taken to prevent that action by owners whose holdings were on the verge of reverting to the city.

The implication was made that such "gutting" activities were carried on by property owners not only to the detriment of the property from a point of view of value, but also from a point of view of safety.

Houses partially demolished furnished a very unfavorable picture, it was noted.

The resolution was carried.

TYEE CONSOLIDATED MINING COMPANY LIMITED

(Non-Personal Liability)

A company organized to develop by the use of modern mining and treatment methods the proven bodies of gold, silver, copper and zinc ore known to exist upon Mt. Sicker, Vancouver Island, British Columbia, and previously developed by Old Country capital more than 30 years ago.

FINANCIAL STRUCTURE		OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS
Authorized	2,000,000 shares	President, Oliver Besner, Vancouver, B. C.
Issued for Property, Equipment and Development Work completed (in escrow)	900,000 shares	Man. Dir., P. E. Peterson, M.E., Vancouver, B. C.
This Issue	500,000 shares	Vice-Pres., Frank L. Buckley, Vancouver, B. C.
To Remain in Treasury	600,000 shares	Director, S. W. Miller, Vancouver, B. C.
		Secretary, J. M. Coady, Vancouver, B. C.

PROPERTY

In the early days the riches of Mt. Sicker were being mined from three claims only—the Lenora, Tyee, and Richard III. The present company controls 33 claims and fractions, including the three original ones. The consolidated property is within six miles of tidewater and a good motor road crosses the property.

HISTORY

Intense rivalry in the early days prevented economical operation. Yet, one mine paid 20 per cent dividends. Modern mining and milling methods, plus the increase in gold and silver prices, now make the mining of the great ore bodies profitable.

ORE BODIES

"The average width of these ore bodies is over 20 feet, and some of the slopes have shown a width of 45 feet of solid ore," stated the Annual Report of the Minister of Mines (1903). Thousands of tons of this ore are available for immediate treatment.

OPERATING PLANS

It is the intention of the company to bring the consolidated property to the milling stage and to install a modern mill as soon as possible. Work from the start can be done in commercial ore, according to government and engineers' reports.

CONCLUSION

The large bodies of commercial grade ore awaiting immediate reduction, the advancement of metallurgical knowledge and practice since the early days when the mines were operated, the increased price of gold and silver, the enhancing values of base metals, and the consolidation of three important properties unite in making Tyee Consolidated Mining Company Ltd. an undertaking from which the speculative element has been almost entirely removed. In addition to bringing employment to a large number of men, it should bring quick and large profits to those who participate in this, the original offering of Treasury Shares.

ENGLISH GIRLS IN NEW YORK

Bevy of Women Sales Managers on Business Trip

Canadian Press

New York, May 8.—A suave and collected company of lady sales managers from one of Britain's largest department store chains toured this city today to see whether New York women are as smart as they are themselves.

The twenty-two of them, accompanied by eighteen young men, are employed by Lewis Limited in stores at Manchester, Leeds, Liverpool, Birmingham and Glasgow.

Miss Val Blackway, a tall, blonde from Liverpool, set everything straight as their ship came up the bay yesterday.

"You see," said Miss Blackway, "we are sales managers and that means the smartness of the men and women in our profession which has done so much to make England a fashionably dressed country today."

As to their duties here, the tall blonde sales manager said the party would take in a few night clubs.

"Well, rather," said the Status of Liberty. "Definitely, no. I visit my friends and see what they are up to. I am a shopping addict."

Is this food safer than risk-taking medicine? Two tablespoons of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. If seriously constipated, use with each meal. See your doctor, if you do not get relief.

Use as a cereal, or in cooking. Sold by all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

GUIDES TO HOLD GARDEN PARTY

Plans for a garden party to be held in June, to raise funds for summer camp expenses for the Girl Guides were discussed at the meeting of the local association of Girl Guides, held yesterday evening at headquarters, Langley Street.

Reports of committees who organized the recent rally at the Willows submitted, included that of Mrs. Kyll Symons, president, who had provided lunch for 100 out-of-town guides and Brownies, and that of Miss George, who was responsible for supper arrangements for over 300 guides who took part in the campfire at St. Margaret's School, following the rally.

A letter to the provincial commissioner, Mrs. A. Morrell, from Lady Baden-Powell, chief guide, following her recent visit, was read by Miss Hilda Leighton, district commissioner, in the hall.

"I have been so very glad to have opportunities for meeting so many of the members of your committee and association, and I do think that you are lucky in having gained such strong support in what you might call our 'lay channels'."

It meant a great deal to have the full sympathy of thinking women, who represented local authorities, educational authorities and the parents of guides as well," the letter noted.

Among the letters of thanks for assistance rendered to the association at the rally was one to Miss Betty Martin.

Mrs. B. G. Goward was announced as the representative to the association of the Dr. O. M. Jones Chapter, which has recently "adopted" the Willows Company.

Congratulations were offered to Miss Leighton and Miss A. Stewart Williams who, as well as the provincial commissioner, were recipients of the jubilee medal in recognition of work done for the Girl Guides.

The following are thanked for donations: Mrs. Beale, Mrs. Kent, Mrs. Hollivant, Mrs. W. M. Foster, Mrs. Hodgson, Mrs. McKelly, Ten Mile Point Sewing Circle, Mrs. C. A. Williams, Mrs. G. H. Ramsay, Mrs. A. Boston, Mrs. P. E. Taylor, Mrs. Wm. Dealey, Mrs. A. Smith, Mrs. D. Home For Aged Women Fills Community Need

Thirty-seventh Annual Meeting Yesterday Reveals Valuable Work; Eighty-five Cared For Last Year

"As the years roll by there seems to be an ever increasing need for all that this represents. For during this past year we have had an increasing list of applicants, of those who desire to avail themselves of the comfort and care obtainable in our home."

This illuminating sentence from the thirty-seventh annual report of the Home for Aged Women, read yesterday afternoon by Mrs. A. D. Whittier, secretary, indicates the important niche filled in the community by this institution on McCord Street.

During the past year, eighty-five have been cared for. Or these eight have left either to enter hospital or to their eternal home," the report continued.

Special intermission numbers will be featured and as an added attraction a novel bar where ice cream and soft drinks will be served. Gus Michalski's five-piece orchestra has been obtained from 9 to 1 o'clock. As this is the final entertainment of the season a large crowd is anticipated.

R. R. McKicking Chapter.—A standing vote of sympathy was passed to Mrs. H. G. Bolt in her recent sad bereavement at the passing of Robert McKicking. Chapter No. 100, last night. As a result of the rummage and home-cooking sale, held during the past month, the sum of $40 was realized. The next rummage meeting will be held on Thursday, May 22, in the evening. May 12 is Intercession Day, and the service this year will be held at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. Members are asked to be outside the church at 10.45 a.m. Mrs. William Ellis, municipal regent, was a special guest last night and gave a complete report of the provincial meeting held in Vancouver last month and on the aims and objects of the I.O.D.E.

St. Mark's Birthday Party.—St. Mark's Church held their annual birthday party on Friday, May 3, in the Parish Hall. Games and community singing formed part of the programme, the rest of the evening being given up to old-time and modern dancing. A beautifully decorated cake was donated by Mrs. E. Newman and contested for throughout the evening. It was won by Mrs. E. H. Cross. The special guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Prentice. Members of long standing in the church who have lately left the parish, Mr. Prentice receiving an illuminated address presented by Rev. O. L. Jull, while Marian Jull presented a beautiful basket of flowers to Mrs. Prentice. A handsomely decorated stand for candy was presided over by Mrs. G. Rogers.

Chapter Tenders Congratulations

Gonzales Chapter I.O.D.E. at its monthly meeting yesterday morning in the headquarters, passed a standing vote of congratulation to Mrs. Walter C. Nichol, its regent, on the presentation to her on Monday of a Jubilee medal.

The regent presented a report of the recent contest for a Jubilee trip to England, as a result of which a balance had accrued to the chapter fund. The secretary was instructed to write a letter to Mrs. F. A. Tolman, the originator of the idea, who is now in England, thanking her for her suggestion.

Mrs. Nichol also reported on her recent visit to the Monterey School, when, on behalf of the chapter, she presented to the school library a copy of H. V. Morton's "In the Steps of the Master." Plans were made for a garden party at the home of the regent, Rockland Avenue, on June 21.

Lou Ambers 7 to 5 Favorite To Lift World Lightweight Title

THE SPORTS MIRROR

NOT IN MANY years have the two major-league baseball campaigns resembled old-fashioned "dog-fights" so much as they do this spring. It is of course, quite true that two of the prime favorites, the Cleveland Indians and New York Giants, have been doing very well when it is considered that both clubs have pitched up their infield. Both have shown the pitching class expected of them and exhibited power. The Indians may be stronger when Billy Knickerbocker returns to action and the Giants will be better off defensively, with Hughey Critch back at second base.

They will need to be. Already the dark horses in both leagues, led by the Chicago White Sox in the American, and the Brooklyn Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds in the National, have upset several barrels of dogs. The White Sox, on top yesterday, may be too good to last but there is no fluke in their jump from the 1934 cellar to such dizzy heights. Johnny Whitworth, the freshman right hander who has scored four victories in a row, and his former Dallas pitching mate, Joe Vance, have filled two of the club's pitching gaps.

The Sox lead in the league in fielding as well as batting, with a ten-point margin over the Philadelphia Athletics and a twenty-point lead over the clubbing Clevelanders. Both championship clubs, Detroit's Tigers and the St. Louis Cardinals, have started slowly but they will be tough to back as the season develops. The Cardinals have missed manager Frankie Frisch and Pepper Martin, both champions, and have had Walker, to furnish the kind of pitching the club needs.

The rookie surprise of the National League is Elijah Darrrell (C) Blanton, seven-foot right-hander of the Pittsburgh Pirates. Blanton has taken the pitching spotlight from Dizzy Dean with his exploits so far, which include a one-hit shutout of the Cardinals and a 3 to 2 decision over the great Dean. Blanton's noble experiment behind the bat has not dimmed the batting eyes of the Maryland Mauler but neither has it proved an inspiration to the Athletics young pitching staff. The New York Yankees can hardly be expected to get very far with Lou Gehrig hitting around .340 but Louie, who will remedy the situation shortly.

England will attempt to lift the coveted Wimbledon title this year with a team of young tennis stars. The international series will be played at Forest Hills Stadium in August. Americans have been anxious to see Betty Nuthall and Dorothy Round stroking and volleying the ball on the turf of one of the finest tennis stadiums in the U.S. It is now understood that the famous pair will be missing. A younger team composed of the Misses Evelyn Mary Dearman, Nancy Lyle and Mary Hardwick will comprise the invading force.

Miss Hardwick has been called the foremost tennis player in Europe since the halcyon days of the incomparable Miss Suzanne Lenglen. She is likened to a sphinx in action with the grace of a fawn gamboling on the green. She is not new in competition by any means as she has experienced considerable success on the courts of England and Europe. She seems to possess all the qualifications necessary to lead a band of British young ladies contesting for one of the higher prizes in women's tennis.

For the last two years Miss Hardwick has been making great strides. She first attracted attention at Wimbledon, in 1933, when she went into the second round and by her hard hitting courted the world-champion Miss Rene Mathieu to three sets, 6-3, 4-6 and 6-3, before acknowledging defeat. The following year she won the French Open, and she is expected to be the limit to down the youthful British star. The scores, 8-6, 5-6 and 1-6, indicate the hard, tense battle between the two stars. Miss Hardwick was born in London and will not be twenty-two years old until after the Wimbledon matches are under way. Her speed and power have been developed on the hard courts. Early in her career she reached the double semi-finals teamed up with J. N. Bilyard. A week later she reached the quarter-finals of the famous Don MacNeill, who gave Fred Perry, the world's singles champion, many valuable pointers.

Miss Brynbridge, Miss Harvey, playing captain of the British 1935 Wimbledon Cup team, is directly responsible for the high honor accorded Miss Hardwick. In the final of the British covered court championships the veteran Miss Harvey was set down by Miss Hardwick by the wide score of 6-1 and 6-2. This convinced Miss Hardwick that it would

Youngster Meets Tony Canzoneri Friday Evening

"Herkimer Hacksaw" Figured to Capture Crown Vacated By Barney Ross

Bout Scheduled Over 15 Rounds

New York, May 8.—A little more than three years ago Luigi D'Ambrosio, with $2 in his trousers, hitchhiked from Herkimer, N.Y., to see his idol, Tony Canzoneri, turn back the lightweight title bid of the slender negro, Kid Chocolate. A $1.10 ticket landed him way up in the balcony at Madison Square Garden. Friday night Luigi d'Ambrosio, now known as Lou Ambers and hailed as the "Herkimer Hacksaw," will have the choicest seat in the Garden, right in the ring with this same Tony Canzoneri. Instead of cheering his idol, he'll fight him fifteen rounds for the lightweight championship of the world.

A lot of things have happened in the fight business since the night young d'Ambrosio saw the great Canzoneri, one of the most pleasing and capable warriors of this generation, turn in a superb boxing exhibition to ward off Chocolate's challenge. WAS SPARRING PARTNER A year and a half later, d'Ambrosio had become a professional boxer and had sparring partners at $5 a day to help condition him for the Garden match in which he knocked out the fading Chocolate in two rounds. He was "even better" a few weeks later when he sparred with Tony, getting him ready to beat Clete Locatelli. Then their paths diverged. Tony slid off from his greatest days, and Barney Ross won his title. D'Ambrosio, only twenty-two, one of nine young d'Ambrosios, started to get "shaken."

TOURING GOLF PLAYERS LOSE

Canadian Amateurs Drop Three of Five Matches to English at Woking

Woking, Eng., May 8.—The Canadian amateur golf team met a sad capitulation by Robert Harris, former British amateur champion, here to-day and the homesters won the foursomes by three games to nil, with two halved. All the matches were close, however, and the Canadians, who have been on this side only a few days and lack practice, showed good form. In their first play on Saturday they lost to a Royal St. George's club team by 3 to 2, with two halved.

The visitors clashed with two of the foremost British amateurs in the matches that were halved—Roger Wethered on one couple and T. A. Bourn on the other.

A. D. Cave and R. H. Oppenheimer, defeated Edward Innes, Montreal, and F. G. Hoblitzel, Toronto, one up. R. O. Cliftenden and R. H. Montmorency defeated Jack Nash, London, and Robert Jacob, Montreal, one up. R. Harris and W. A. Murray defeated Ken Black, Vancouver, and Bud Donovan, Winnipeg, one up. R. H. Wethered and A. S. G. Thompson halved with Paul Parry, Toronto, and Ross Somerville, London. T. A. Bourn and D. H. R. Martin halved with Dick Moore, Vancouver, and Gordon Taylor, Montreal.

Sanwich Thistles first and second division soccer teams will hold a workout this evening at Central Park at 8.30 o'clock. All players are requested to attend.

Louis Puts Over Another Knockout

Kalamazoo, Mich., May 8.—Joe Louis, Detroit's hard-hitting pugilist, knocked out Gene Stanton, Cleveland, here yesterday evening in the third round of their scheduled six round bout. A left to the jaw ended the battle and gave Louis his twenty-second consecutive victory and his eighth clean knockout.

Louis had no trouble putting Stanton away. The Detroit heavyweight carried the offensive from the start and dropped Stanton three times in the first round and twice in the second.

Louis weighed 202, against 215 for Stanton.

McLARNIN IS IN NEW YORK

Will Open Final Training For Title Bout With Barney Ross on May 28

New York, May 8.—Jimmy McLarnin, despite his Irish heritage, isn't likely ever to be superstitious again.

The Vancouver brash-butler made his first trip to New York City on the day after he had defeated Barney Ross here May 23. There was thirteen passengers. But it was the second section, trailing them through the fog by only half an hour, that crashed in Missouri, killing Senator Brown Cutting and four others.

McLarnin, arriving here by train yesterday from Chicago to start training for his third match with the reigning lightweight champion, still felt a bit shaky.

"We had a bad time ourselves with that fog," Jimmy explained. "We were all awake as we came here. Kansas City, Mo., and his water-tight title defense against Barney Ross here May 23. There was thirteen passengers. But it was the second section, trailing them through the fog by only half an hour, that crashed in Missouri, killing Senator Brown Cutting and four others."

NEW MANAGERS IN FOOTBALL

Percy Smith Resigns Leadership of Tottenham Hotspurs; Other Changes

London, May 8.—Among the English football clubs entering the 1935-36 season, opening late in August, with new managers, is Tottenham Hotspurs. Announcement of the resignation of Percy Smith to take effect at the end of the present season proved a surprise to supporters of the famous White Hart Lane Club.

So ends another chapter in the chequered career of the Spurs. Smith's decision to seek fresh quarters came after three years of service during which he piloted the team from the second to the first division of the league, and nearly won the championship from the Arsenal last season.

During the 'campaign just ended when the Spurs were gradually slipping to the bottom of the table, Smith played the directors to purchase new players before the situation became desperate, but nothing was done until the London team was practically certain of relegation.

Applications for a new manager are being sought and one of the terms of the appointment will be that the selection, man will not be required to perform any secretarial duties.

W. Hardinge, international footballer and Kent cricketer, is in charge of Tottenham's second team, and he may possibly be given the responsibility of the first team.

Queen's Park Rangers, third division club, has appointed William Birrell as manager in succession to "Mick" O'Brien, another official resign recently. A Scot, Birrell, has been manager of the Bournemouth team since 1930.

Directors of Hartlepool United, another third division side announce that Jack Carr will not be re-engaged as manager of the team, owing to the financial condition of the club.

Horace Renhall, who joined Notts County from Aston Villa first as a player in 1912, has resigned the secretaryship of the club and will take a business appointment outside football. In recognition of his services Notts County directors will make him a life member and awards him a benefit match.

GOLF BOOST FOR CANADA

Goodwill Tour of Britain Will Mean Much to Game in This Country

By E. C. GOULD
President Royal Canadian Golf Association
Hamilton, May 8.—Never in the history of the royal and ancient game have the prospects for golf in Canada been more encouraging than they are at the present time, due to the Royal Canadian Golf Association sending a team to represent Canada on a goodwill tour to Great Britain.

This tour will prove an incentive to all leading Dominion golfers to secure a place on the team in years to come.

The tour, which will be a mixture of a time welcome, and as they are especially invited guests of the Royal and Ancient Club, they are not only assured of official recognition, but also that everything will be done in a truly sporting spirit to promote a better understanding among British and Canadian people.

As to the possibility of success in Canada's first attempt to win the British amateur championship, or one of the other laurels, it should be remembered that our team will be playing under more or less strange conditions, with little practice.

But of one thing we are assured, and that is under the capable captaincy of Ross Somerville each member will do his utmost.

Upon their return, the team will take part in the Canadian amateur which will be held at the attractive Hamilton Golf Club at Ancaster, Ontario.

SOCCER GAME IS SCHEDULED

Spencers and Outer Wharf Rangers in Cup Fixture Tomorrow Evening

One finalist for the Kennie & Taylor football cup will be named at Heywood Avenue grounds tomorrow evening after a clash between Spencers, champions of the Wednesday League, and the Outer Wharf Rangers.

The fixture, which is one-half of the semi-final round for the trophy, is scheduled to start at 8.30 o'clock. A keen match is anticipated. Last time the two squads met, Spencers took an odd goal decision after a spirited fight.

Both squads will be out in full strength.

Spencers will be slight favorites, following their league victory, which gave them possession of the Pendray Cup, but the Rangers have high hopes of stopping the Diamond 8 squad.

INSURANCE FOR MOTOR RACING
 Victoria would be safeguarded in the event of a crash, according to a public liability insurance policy, which the City Council, when that matter was raised at its meeting yesterday.

Granting of a permit to race would be contingent on the application of the insurance, he said.

Alderman P. R. Bremner moved the matter be referred to the finance committee and the solicitor to make sure that the insurance would be placed on the track for the event.

Alderman Andrew McDevlin stated the British Columbia Agricultural Association could not use the track for auto races unless it took out the policy.

The rest of the association of the motor racing interests will pay for the policy, Alderman Walter Loney stated.

Alderman McDevlin objected to the matter being referred to the finance committee, as the City Council is responsible in the case of an accident.

The letter was received and filed.

Bracon Mine Workers Strike

Striking Forces in Bridge River Area Now Total 600 As Three Plants Stop

Striking forces in the Bridge River mining area were boosted to 600 yesterday evening when employees of the Bracon mine went on strike for more wages by a vote of 107 to 92.

Coincident with this decision came the announcement from the government that Adam Bell, Deputy Minister of Labour, had to-day intervened at the invitation of the miners, and attempt reconciliation.

With the Bracon men joining the walkout three mines have now ceased operation—Pioneer, Bracon and Wayville.

Employees at Pioneer yesterday refused an offer from the company to accept a twenty-five cent a day increase in wages.

Provincial police stated this morning they were not anticipating any disturbances at Bridge River as there had been no agitation among the workmen there. They are, however, being kept well posted on the situation.

Mediation of the strike was sought by miners in a wire to Premier Pattullo this morning. Mr. Bell will investigate the situation for the department and attempt negotiation of a settlement.

Premier Pattullo explained that while matters of this kind generally come under the Dominion Industrial Disputes Act, the province was perfectly agreeable to do all it could to assist in an early settlement of the dispute.

Pair Fined For Fight In Street

Chinaman and White Man Admit Brawl After Dance; "A Draw" Says Court

"It seems to have been a draw," commented Magistrate George Jay in the City Police Court this morning when he convicted Edward Lee, Chinese, and Fred Magee of creating a disturbance in a public place after a street brawl in which they participated after a dance at the corner of Broughton and Langley streets shortly after midnight on April 24. The two were fined $5 each for the fight.

Witnesses who appeared in behalf of the Chinaman stated Magee had been responsible for starting the fight, and Magee, whose witnesses had been unable to appear, had been the aggressor.

A conversation which two other persons were having and constantly swearing at Magee.

He admitted there had been an "instigation" to go down to the corner and fight it out. Lore testified Magee had threatened to "kick the daylight" out of him, while Magee testified Lore had seized the invitation.

Witnesses who testified found the two fighting and had separated them. He then left them to attend to another brawl further up the street and on returning had found them fighting again.

Cross-examined by Lore as to whether or not he had suffered any injuries from the fight Magee admitted he had been a living out of boxing but admitted he had been as an amateur.

SPLIT ADDITION TO UNPAID TAXES

Addition of a 5 per cent assessment on July 1 and October 1 to taxes remaining unpaid on these dates in the municipality of Esquimalt, in place of a single increase of 10 per cent on July 1, is provided for in a by-law which was given preliminary readings at a special meeting of the Esquimalt council yesterday evening.

The arrangement would be easier on the average ratepayer unable to meet his taxes in full before July 1. The special meeting was called primarily to consider tenders for the printing of tax statements. The contract was awarded to Dighton and Company, the lowest bidder.

The council will meet with the school board to discuss the staging of school sports on May 23, as part of the Victoria Day celebrations. It was decided.

Dental College Appeal Upheld

Suspension of Dr. C. F. Coultas to End July 1, Says Canadian Supreme Court

Ottawa, May 8.—The Supreme Court of Canada to-day upheld the decision of the council of the British Columbia College of Dental Surgeons which found Charles J. Coultas of Vancouver guilty of unprofessional conduct in the practice of dentistry, and suspended him from practice for six months.

The council's decision had previously been affirmed by Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald of the Supreme Court of British Columbia, but overturned by the B.C. Court of Appeal.

Dr. Coultas was charged last June by three members of the college with having organized the school of Mechanical Dentistry Limited, which had been operating in the province since its incorporation in 1928.

The school advised the prospective patients that would require a doctor's examination, for which a fee of $2.50 was charged and the patient was referred to Dr. Coultas. The dental plate was made up and sold by the school.

This the Supreme Court of Canada held, affirming the college and Mr. Justice McDonald, violated section 71 of the Dentistry Act, which prohibits any corporation from carrying on the practice of dentistry and prohibits any member of the college from assisting in the practice of dentistry.

The court announced, however, at the conclusion of the hearing, that the suspension of the dentist should be removed from the corporation and the suspension would end July 1, 1935.

MEDAL CHOICE STIRS DEBATE

Veterans Question Basis on Which Jubilee Honors Awarded

The distribution of the Jubilee medals in Victoria was discussed at a general meeting of the Britannia Branch, Canadian Legion, yesterday. The question was raised as to the grounds on which the selection of recipients was made.

Approval was expressed of the idea in some instances, W. O. Stone, an active member of the branch, who has been a prominent figure in returned soldier affairs for many years was cordially congratulated.

Criticism was voiced over some of the names which appeared in the list, and their right to be selected for the honor. The question was raised as to whether or not there were many persons in Victoria who had a better claim to one of the medals than some of those who appeared on the list.

It was suggested that a protest be filed with the Secretary of State or that a request be made for information as to the method by which the list was compiled.

After the discussion the matter was left in the hands of the executive.

It is expected the question will be brought up at the next meeting of the branch of the Army and Navy Veterans.

Debate Meaning Of Vehicle Act

City Court Scene of Legal Discussion Dealing With Renting of Cars

An unusual point in connection with the hiring of cars from U drive establishments was debated in the City Police Court this morning when Ernest Hill, proprietor of a local drive-yourself firm, was fined $5 for failing to ascertain whether or not a man to whom he hired a car was the possessor of a current year's driving license.

M. B. Jackson, K.C. appeared for Mr. Hill and Claude L. Harrison prosecuted.

The facts of the case, admitted by both sides, were that Arthur Duncan Irwin (who was fined $5 for failing to produce a current year's driver's license on demand of a police officer) had hired the car from the defendant and had been producing his license had told Mr. Hill the number of it, which had been recorded in the hiring contract. He had also promised to bring the license to Mr. Hill, stating he had left it at home.

Mr. Jackson contended the defendant had ascertained that Irwin possessed a 1935 license and had satisfied himself that such a license did exist. He pointed out that the Motor Vehicle Act stipulated only that the proprietor should ascertain whether or not the lessee had a license. It did not stipulate in this section, as it did in many others, that the license should be produced.

Mr. Harrison argued that ascertaining implied that the license should be produced, this view being taken by the magistrate who imposed a nominal fine in view of the circumstances.

GOLD FIGURES POSE AT SHOW

Classical Groups Will Be Feature of Y.M.C.A. Circus

Last year the audience at the Y.M.C.A. annual circus "oozed" and "aahed" at the final act of the show, living statues of gold, posing in classical groups against a black background. This year they will have even more justification for surprise and admiration.

The living statue team for the 1935 version of the circus, which will be staged on Friday and Saturday nights of this week in the Willows Home Show Building, has prepared a completely new set of poses.

Glistening gold paint will again cover the bodies of the posers, who are Chris McRae, Fred Noel, Jack Allison and Art Chapman.

Two of the new poses pay tribute to the recent Canadian basketball championship victory of the Blue Ribbons; one is entitled "The Bucket Play," the other "The Rebound."

An old-fashioned fable is the theme of another unusual group, entitled "The Blacksmiths."

The majority of the poses are of athletic subjects. The titles include "The Plunger," "The Rider," "The Wrestler," "The Swag Dive," "The Combat," "Breasting the Tape," "The Bowler" and "The Oarsman."

Others, inspired by different subjects, include "The Drunk," "Relaxation," "The Laborer" and "The Python."

RICE REPLACES SUGAR IN JAVA

Plants Closing Down With Bottom Knocked Out of Market, Says Visitor

Plantations of Java are now being used for the growing of rice in place of the sugar cane, because the bottom has been completely knocked out of the sugar market, according to G. J. Hollandet, consul for the Netherlands at Denver, Colorado, who reached here by the steamer Empress of Canada this morning after touring for the last three months in the Orient and the Dutch East Indies. He is accompanied by Mrs. Hollandet and broke the journey here for a short stay at the Empress Hotel.

"I was informed by operators of sugar plants in Java that it does not pay to run them and they have consequently been closed down," said Mr. Hollandet. "There is little demand for sugar and large stocks of it are in storage."

Similar conditions prevail in the Philippines, where it was said when Mr. Hollandet was at Manila, 35 per cent of the sugar stocks had been destroyed.

Stocks Penetrate High Levels On Wall Street List

Associated Press
New York, May 8.—The stock market reached out for new peaks to-day in one of the most aggressive advances in ten days or longer. A number of prominent oil shares and individual stocks in other groups penetrated their old 1935 highs without difficulty and the majority ended the session around the day's top.

The closing tone was firm to strong. Sales aggregated 1,300,000 shares.

Leading commodities shared in the bullish enthusiasm but to a lesser extent. Wheat and other grains worked modestly higher and cotton showed some improvement in late trading. Bonds had fairly easy going under leadership of U.S. Government, and foreign Canadian funds remained quiet with some weakness noted in silver currencies.

Among shares breaking through their old highs were such leaders as Standard Oil of New Jersey, American Telephone, Westinghouse, Chrysler and United Fruit. Standard trading favorites ending 1/2 to 1 point included Anaconda, U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, J. I. Case, General Motors, Allied Chemical, John-Manville, American Gas, Columbia Carbon, Consolidated Gas, Cerro de Pasco, U.S. Smelting, Union Pacific, Standard Oil of California, and Cuban American Sugar preferred.

In the Canadian list, aside from firmness in Dome and McIntyre, narrow price changes appeared in International Nickel, Dominion Stores and Canadian Pacific. On the curb, Hiram Walker rose fractionally. Dominion Government funds were slightly higher. Canadian funds improved 1/2 to 1 cent at 90-35-35 cents.

MINES HIGHER AT TORONTO

Canadian Press
Toronto, May 8.—Inflation sentiment and a higher gold price in London were more than a match for the bears and a lower silver price in the mining section of the Toronto stock exchange to-day. After a morning dip the whole list moved forward to a strong close.

Trade expanded in base metals with Noranda higher by about 50 cents, Hudson Bay, Base Metals Corporation, Pead Oreille and Falconbridge were all firm to strong.

Dome was outstanding in the senior golds with a gain of about 1.00. Pioneer and Hollinger climbed up small gains.

Elidoro gained about 10. Castle added 5 cents and held the same amount, while Nipissing closed better than 10 cents higher. Penny silver advanced moderately also.

Pickering, McWaters and Little Long Lac led the medium-price golds by gaining 6 to 15 cents each on good volume. Other issues of the group were unchanged. Gunbar was the big leader in the cheap silvers, advancing nearly 10 cents.

LATE RALLY AT MONTREAL

Canadian Press
Montreal, May 8.—Broad recovery in afternoon dealings sent prices on the Montreal Stock Exchange fractions to a point and more higher.

The recovery was led by oil and metal stocks which were subjected to heavy buying.

Canadian Car common and preferred both rose 1/4, the former at 1 1/4 and the latter at 1 1/2. While Montreal Power gained 1/4 at 27 1/2.

Goodyear Tire fell 1/4 at 11 1/2 and Ogilvie fell 1/4 in an infrequent appearance dropped 1/4 to 10 1/2. B.C. Power and Winnipeg Electric, among others, were lower.

Wheat Values At Winnipeg Steady; Chicago Advances

Winnipeg, May 8.—Rain, and the lack of it, was the dominant market influence on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange to-day, and wheat prices held steady in a dull session. Values closed unchanged to 1/4 higher, May at 55 1/2 and July 55 1/4.

Barley continued to show Canadian crops were better than wheat here, but this was offset by the continued lack of moisture over the United States winter wheat territory and only shown in spring wheat areas.

A smart rally at Chicago, where prices recovered from early 1/4 losses to close in advance of a steady, steady rally. Liverpool, however, closed 1/4 to 1/2 lower. Buenos Aires was up fractionally.

Cash and coarse grains continued quiet.

INDUSTRIALS ARE BUOYANT

Canadian Press
Toronto, May 8.—The industrial section of the Toronto Exchange had its best market in many weeks to-day, volume expanding on a rising price level. Oil provided the feature, particularly Imperial and International Petroleum, both setting at top prices for years. Refinery, metal, steel, bank and utilities closed behind plus signs.

Turkey evolved to better than 40,000 shares. Imperial Oil advanced to 18, up 1/4, the best price in four years. Other oils closing on the up side were British American, the McCall, Canadian Oil and International Petroleum.

Industrial Alcohol A was soft, selling down 1/4 while Walkers common and Distillers Seagrams registered narrow gains.

The steel was well up in front with gains showing for the Canadian Car and Foundry Stocks, Steel of Canada, Canadian Bridge and McCall Pontiacs.

GOVERNMENT BONDS GAIN

Associated Press
New York, May 8.—Slow decline in United States government securities which started about a week ago came to a halt to-day. An important demand for Treasury and guaranteed loans lifted prices moderately in early bond market trading.

Traders appeared less friendly toward the low-priced securities.

Price movements were small in the foreign list. German, Canadian and Argentine obligations were steady.

Trend Generally Easier In Early Mainland Session

Canadian Press
Vancouver, May 8.—Stocks failed to take any definite reaction to Bridge River strike news in the morning session of the Vancouver Stock Exchange to-day.

The market was generally lower, though losses with one or two exceptions were limited to small declines.

Several issues were able to push up for fractional advances.

Bridge River stocks continued to bring the heaviest trading. Selling was fairly heavy in Bralorne, but Lofthouse investors appeared reluctant to dispose of their holdings, preferring instead to stand pat and watch developments.

Bralorne closed the session with a loss of 60 cents, under a demand of better than 4.00 shares. Price ended at 56.50, after touching a low point of 56.10.

Brokers, however, believed that this activity was due not entirely to the miners' strike. Other factors appeared to enter, among which was the continued uncertainty over developments on the twentieth level.

Pioneer brought fair trading, and managed to come back slightly at the close. Price ended 5 cents at 11.00.

Congress, one of the properties involved in the strike, declined no more than a cent, while Wayside displayed slight strength and was able to come out for a 1/2 cent advance at 17 1/2. B.R.X. appeared content to remain unchanged.

Total turn over for the session was about the same as the morning 7 1/2. Tuesday, turnover amounting to 126,000 shares.

Most active issue of the day was Granite Stock, traded over 30,000 shares to end with a 1/4 cent advance at 9. Premier was also active, trading unchanged, while Dentonia brought fair trading to decline 1/4.

Minto was fractionally easier under small trading, while Big Misty held unchanged. Sheep Creek firm, adding a cent under light volume.

The recently strong Amalgamated and Crow's Nest turned lower. Amalgamated came out for a 2 cent decline, with the latter off 1 cent. Royalite was strong, adding a further 60 cents to 52.10, while Bralorne was off 5 cents.
